

Christine Hirasa serves as the Vice President for Communications at the Hawaii Medical Service Association (HMSA) since January 2019. Prior to that, she served as the Special Advisor to the Director at the State Department of Business, Economic Development and Tourism.

Hirasa's experience includes various strategic communications and policy positions in state government relations, including serving as Communications Director for the Governor's Office; Communications Specialist for the Hawaii Department of Education; Executive Assistant to the Chancellor / Communications Director at the University of Hawaii – West Oahu; Public Information Officer at the Hawaii Department of Commerce and Consumer Affairs and at the Hawaii State Judiciary.

She has also worked in the news industry as a Producer at KHON and at KHNL/KFVE (now Hawaii News Now). Born on Oahu and raised in East Honolulu, Hirasa earned her bachelor's degree in communications from the University of Hawaii at Manoa.